Continuing professional development

Practising architects should maintain and improve the skills necessary for the architectural services they normally provide.

Each year when you renew your registration you will be required to certify that you are taking reasonable steps to maintain and improve your skills in the practice of architecture and certify that you have acquired a minimum of 20 hours CPD, of which 10 hours is formal CPD. Pro rata hours apply.

Annual random audit of CPD is conducted on 5% of all registrants.

Professional indemnity insurance

Practising architects should maintain professional indemnity insurance appropriate to the architectural services they provide.

Exemptions apply to

- architects providing services as an employee of an architect corporation or firm
 - architects who have commenced an architectural practice recently
 - on application to the Board the PI requirement may be waived for extenuating circumstances.
- I have appropriate PI cover
- I am providing architectural services as an employee of an architectural firm
- I have commenced an architectural practice recently (please provide documentary evidence, eg - business registration or corp firm registration and ABN)
- I am applying for exemption from this provision (please provide documentary evidence for seeking exemption, eg - illness or financial hardship. PII should be presented within one year of registration)

I confirm that the details given in this application are true and correct in every particular.
